In the desolate, icy wilderness of Greenland, a missing persons case turns deadly, and Constable Petra Jensen must race against time to solve it before the cold claims another life.

When a young woman disappears from a remote research station in Greenland, Constable Petra Jensen is called in to investigate. The station is located on a glacier, miles from civilization, and the conditions are harsh. Petra must brave the cold, the wind, and the treacherous terrain to find the missing woman before it's too late.

As Petra digs deeper into the case, she uncovers a web of secrets and lies. The missing woman was not who she seemed, and her disappearance may be linked to a much larger crime. Petra must use all of her skills and experience to track down the truth, but time is running out.

With each passing hour, the cold grows more intense and the danger increases. Petra must find the missing woman before the cold claims another life.

About the Author

Jónína Leósdóttir is an Icelandic author of crime fiction. She is the author of the Constable Petra Jensen series, which is set in Greenland. Leósdóttir's writing has been praised for its atmospheric tension and its strong female characters.

Reviews

"Leósdóttir's writing is as cold and unforgiving as the Greenland landscape she describes. This is a gripping mystery that will keep you on the edge of your seat until the very end." - Publishers Weekly

"A must-read for fans of Nordic noir." - Library Journal

"Leósdóttir has created a truly unforgettable character in Petra Jensen. This is a series that I will definitely be following." - Booklist
